

NEWS RELEASE

10 September 2002

NEW FACE IN NEW STORE FOR NEW TOWN

Morrisons supermarket, opening in Cambourne in October, has named the new store's general manager as Kevin Gilbert.

Kevin, 44, joined Morrisons in January and brings a wealth of retail experience obtained over his 28-year career to his new post in Cambourne.

A keen golfer who enjoys country walks, Kevin is delighted to be taking up the position at the new store and is looking forward to playing a key part in the local community.

From checking the 20,000 different grocery lines are neatly stacked on the shelves, to ensuring that all new members of staff are fully-trained, Kevin and his management team will be working extremely hard to add the finishing touches over the coming weeks.

Kevin comments, "We have a team of top quality people who will be striving hard to make sure everything is ready for opening day."

"Local people will find that whether shopping on our Market Street fresh food counters, or visiting our customer café and award winning Wines and Spirit Department, they can expect a friendly, personal service, Morrisons style." he added.

Morrisons has 114 stores throughout the UK, offering an exceptional range of quality fresh foods, groceries, home and leisure goods and beer, wines and spirits to over three million shoppers every week.

ENDS

Notes to Editors:

- Morrisons was founded in 1899 by William Morrison, father of current Chairman, Sir Kenneth Morrison.
- Morrisons is the country's fifth largest supermarket chain with 114 stores across the UK – from Erith in the South to Carlisle in the North and across Lancashire, Yorkshire, Lincolnshire, East Anglia, the Midlands and into Wales.

m/f

- 3.25 million customers shop at Morrisons every week.
- Morrisons currently employs 44,000 people across the UK.

For further information please contact Zoë Baxter at Morrisons press office on 01924 875309.